Client Testimonials

What Our Clients Say

As the CEO and President of MTM Laboratories, I worked with Randy for 3 years. Randy was referred to me by a senior executive colleague in the field, and I am happy to have gotten this referral. Randy worked on 10 searches on the sales and marketing needs of the company. MTM was an early stage diagnostics company in the early stages of commercialization which made personnel requirements very specific. Randy not only addressed many of our personnel needs, but of equal importance, did it with the utmost commitment and professionalism to delivering the best people for the tasks. The discussions were always open and constructive in the process, and Randy was always available to talk. He was responsive to our needs and open to the feedback on candidates in the pursuit of excellence.

Randy, and The Weatherhills Group, have been fantastic to work with. They have helped NeoDiagnostix recruit numerous Clinical Laboratory Scientists over the last three years to work within our diagnostic testing laboratory. The quality of the candidates identified by Randy has been higher than any other group we have worked with. His management of the recruiting process and the candidates' expectations has been immensely helpful and enabled us to identify suitable candidates faster and with greater success than we have experienced previously.

Over the course of the last twelve years I have come to rely upon The Weatherhills Group as a trusted business partner in the identification and hiring of top sales professionals. During that time I have hired over 40 individuals through this collaboration. The Weatherhills Group can be counted on to bring forth qualified individuals that meet specific requirements. Working with The Weatherhills Group has actually saved money. Because of their speed in identifying top talent, I have shortened the time of the selection process and significantly reduced the “time to full productivity” metric.

The Weatherhills Group is comprised of professionals who are committed to the excellence and delivering to the needs of their customers. Having worked with Randy Dennis and his team, as both a candidate and as a hiring manager, I was impressed with their attention to detail and the amount of time each of the team members spent with me. They worked diligently to understand my goals and the necessary skills needed to do the job. As a hiring manager, Randy and his team developed a fundamental understanding of the ideal candidate(s) for the position and sought to bring forward the right candidates. This is an incredibly valuable part of our relationship – as I trust they will find the right people for the position.

In my experience in the healthcare industry over the past 15 years, The Weatherhills Group is the most professional and dependable executive and managerial search firm I have had the pleasure of working with, both personally and professionally.

We view The Weatherhills Group as a trusted partner for our business. Their process for identifying and qualifying candidates has been very effective for us. They have consistently delivered top notch talent for us even in hard-to-fill positions where others were unsuccessful. They remain our go-to source for recruiting.

The Weatherhills Group has been a vital partner in my recruitment efforts over the past four years. Randy Dennis and his team have taken the time to understand our company and the candidates we're looking for. They make sure the candidates not only have the skill sets needed, but that they also fit into the culture of the company. The entire Weatherhills team is very responsive to my needs and is always ready to go the extra mile to help me find high quality candidates. I would not hesitate to use The Weatherhills Group for future needs because I feel confident that they'll be able to surpass my expectations.
